

Intro to Artificial Intelligence: Assignment 2

Model Accuracy: 94.12%

The sigmoid function was used as the activation function while the mean square error was used to find the error. The weights were initially random and updated through back propagation. The best outcome came when the learning rate was set to be 0.04.

Graphs:

